Bolting the Ticket.

The Bangor News says that it stands, politically, for the success of the Republican party. Does it? In March, 1895, when it first declared its purpose to support the Republican party, it said it should "strive fairly and honorably to further the interests of the party of prosperity by heeding the wishes of the majority, and studiously personal preferences we may have for the sake of unity and success."

The Republican party of Bangor has nominated a Representative ticket. There is no question as to the claim of Messrs. Stetson, Pearl and Palmer to the support of the Republicans of Bangor as the nominees of the party. Certain gentlemen made other nominations and the nominees of the so-called general caucus claimed the right to be recognized as the party candidates. This claim received the support of the News.

While nothing in the shape of sound reasoning could be adduced in support of this claim, for the purposes of this argument let us concede that up to this time there was an honest difference of opinion. We are disposed to be entirely fair in the presentation of the case. There certainly is no opportunity for any honest difference of opinion to-day.

The Supreme Court of Maine has passed upon the case and placed the stamp of party regularity and party fidelity upon the nomination of Messrs. Stetson, Pearl and Palmer. It has done more. The Court has ordered the names of these gentlemen placed upon the official ballot as the candidates of the Republican party. As the Republicans of Bangor are only entitled to three Representatives it necessarily follows that if Messrs. Parkhurst, Pearl and Palmer are voted for it must be as bolting candidates. It cannot be as candidates of the Republican party because the Court has decided this point in accordance with law and order.

The News says it "knows of no course to take other than to accept the situation as it is, and in justice to the party as a whole, to recognize both legislative tickets." But it does not accept the situation as it is, or if it must it is going to "stand" for the Republican party. To accept the situation as it is involves a recognition of the Supreme Court which has judicially determined the Representative ticket of the Republican party. Any other course on the part of the News is to place personal preferences above party success and to violate the very doctrine it has been preaching for the past year or two, namely, the right of the majority to rule. There is neither consistency nor honesty of purpose in its present course. It cannot ride two horses at the same time. It is either for or against the candidates of the Republican party. It cannot be for both. If it is for the candidates of the party, as it claimed in 1895, then the names of bolting candidates should have no place in its columns.

In attempting to straddle this question it is not contributing to the success of the party, as it promised in 1895, but is inviting the defeat of the regularly nominated candidates. It is placing bolters on an equal footing so far as it is concerned with the legal representatives of the party. Messrs. Parkhurst, Pearl and Palmer presented their claims to the Court. They were given every possible opportunity to state their case. The Court held that they had no right or title to recognition as the candidates of the Republican party. If they go before the people it must be as bolters, men who refuse to bow to the mandate of the party, or of the Supreme Court of Maine and who decline to recognize the right of the majority to rule when said majority is not in accord with their views. In giving them direct or indirect support the News also becomes a bolter. No other interpretation of its course is possible.

Which Horn of the Dilemma?

(Commercial, Aug. 21.) The Indian term can be taken to mean the unpolished coins of gold and silver, the latter being its time-honored place alongside gold as a form of money and a regulator of value, their equivalent.

It is now in order for our contemporaries to reconcile these contradictory statements. If the farmer can change $500 in gold for $1,000 worth of debts, under the free coinage of silver, silver will not take its place alongside of gold in point of value. If silver will become as valuable as gold without damage then the former must take the silver dollar out further still, the gold dollar in the place of the silver. We believe the parallel scheme of illustrations and diagrams will help to settle this read-dollar and fifty-cent coins in gold, or its equivalent, three silver dollars, then worth fifty-three cents each, if we have free coinage of silver.

It is the uncertainty as to this that prevents the making of the usual contracts now?

What remedy is there for this condition?

Does it lie in making the stampage payable in gold, or should the present gold standard be maintained, in which case it would make no difference whether the stampage was paid in gold, silver or paper, all being equally good in that respect?
